

Using a PC Windows 11 Deleting Files

In the last lesson, Celine learned how to save her work and close a file.

In this lesson, Celine is going to learn how to delete a file she no longer wants to keep within the Windows 11 operating system.

Provided by AT&T Connected Learning + Public Library Association

There are several reasons why you might want to delete files permanently from your computer.

One reason is to make sure you do not run out of storage space on your computer. Even if the file is in the recycle bin, it still takes up storage space.

Deleting unneeded files can help your computer run faster and more efficiently.

Deleting files also can help you protect personal information. For instance, if you are working on a file that includes private information and you do not want anyone else to see it, it is recommended that you delete the file when you are done, so that someone else cannot access your personal information later.

And finally, it can help you find files more quickly by eliminating clutter.

You can also delete a file by clicking once to select it then tapping the Delete key on your keyboard. The Delete key may be in a different location depending on your keyboard.

Provided by AT&T Connected Learning + Public Library Association

Now the files are inside the Recycle Bin. The Recycle Bin is a temporary holding place for the files that have been deleted.

Just like a recycle bin in your home, the contents stay in the bin until you take it out and empty it.

Provided by AT&T Connected Learning + Public Library Association

If you move a file to the Recycle Bin and later realize that you want to keep the file, you can still get the file back as long as you haven't emptied the Recycle Bin.

To recover the file Celine double clicks on the Recycle Bin icon,

The Recycle Bin is now empty.

In this course, we've learned the basics of working with the Windows 11 operating system. We've learned to open applications and files, work within Windows, and save and delete files.

Why don't you try exploring some of the features on your own!
